Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Never place any bets on the Big Game. Young chaps who plunked down money on the Bear aged rapidly during the first half last Saturday in California's huge stadium. The Red Indian had plenty of pep and vim and was full of fight. The Bear appeared unusually shy. Three times the Indian marched and passed down to the Bear goal line and three times missed scoring by a miracle. As it was, practically all those U. C. men who wagered on the score, lost.

It was only in the last half when Coach Allison began throwing in his limitless (so it seemed) reserves and giving his first string a long rest that the Bear began to do a little marching. The fourth quarter was three minutes old before the Bear by an extremely fortunate pass, scored the solitary half dozen that was chalked up during the game, that was full of tremors and jitters for the spectators. At that point a little Stanford co-ed seated in the press section buried her face in her big Stanford corsage and moaned: "I won't look. I just won't look".

Perhaps the best part of a football game for those who see it, is the time before and after. At the various Greek letter houses there is a reunion of new and old. Alumni slap each other's backs and carry on like freshmen. Prideful mothers meet their sons. The hamburgers, cake, ice cream and coffee circulate on lawns, in halls, and litter porches and garden seats. Upstairs is more rugged refreshment for those who crave it. One man has flown out from New York. Another is just in from the Rand. A third comes from the Phillippines, and so on. The huge old Bear gives each one of his sons and daughters a mighty hug.

As compared with other years when Prohibition was first lifted there was noticibly less open drinking. The warnings carried by radio, newspaper and on billboards have at last caught on. To drink and drive is, aside from being extremely dangerous, becoming unfashionable among people who regard themselves as genteel. Some one in every party is obliged to abstain from the "cratture" to drive the party home.

Unusual even for the fall months was Saturday. It was an Indian summer day and the air warm, even on the shady side of the big stadium. There was the usual great spectacle of the blue and gold band with more than a hundred musicians playing. The band does a new stunt. It deploys in the outline of a huge bear and envelopes a tepee full of befeathered and blanketed Indians. When the fracas is over, Indians, paint, feathers and tepee have completel disappeared and no one has seen them go.

Each year the rooters sections improve a little their colorful, giant cartoons. The huge pictures of "Stub" Allison and "Tiny" Thornhill, this year faintly reminded one of the famous coaches themselves. On the U. C. side the rooters depicted an Indian tied to a yellow stake and flames beginning at the bottom of the section gradually devoured the poor fellow.

There were more than 80,000 people in the stadium. This is considerably more than five times the population of Nevada county, and is a large fraction of the bay population. Time was when everybody worked on a Saturday, all day, and went to church on Sunday and rested in the afternoon, abstaining from anything that savored of week day activities. But in these times many businesses and offices are closed all day Saturday, and practically all close Saturday afternoon so that there is abundant opportunity for relaxation and sports. It is this increase of leisure which readily accounts for the coming together of 80,000 people at football games. Incidentally this is a larger crowd by nearly 15,000 than recorded at any of the great games in the East this year. This may indicate that California builds bigger stadiums, or that California is richer and more prosperous than its Eastern sister states.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH

Thanksgiving services will be held at the Methodist church on upper Broad street at 10:30 Thursday morning. A special musical program has been arranged by Mrs. H. H. Buckner.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Penrose of North Bloomfield spent today in Nevada City visiting relatives and friends.

MAX SOLARO CARVES XMAS SIGN FOR CITY

Max Solaro, fire truck driver for Nevada City, has made a large circular sign with cut out figures for the holiday season and it will be placed above the city hall about the first of December. The top of the sign has a reindeer, Old Santa Claus, sleight and several small trees, in brown, yellow and green colors. Across the center is "Merry Christmas" with "Happy New Year" around the lower half of the circle. Small evergreen trees will be placed to each side of the sign and when it is lighted at night will be a most pleasing display. Max is receiving much praise for his artistic work in cutting out the figures for the sign.

HALF MILLION IN GOLD SOUGHT FOR CENTENNIAL

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 21.—Half a million dollars worth of gold dust and gold nuggets will be on public display in the California state treasury building in Sacramento during the Sacramento-Golden Empire Centennial in 1939, celebration officials announced this week.

State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson has agreed to cooperate with the Centennial organization and is making plans for a burglar-proof exhibit case to be installed in the lobby of the treasury building at Seventh and J streets, when the structure, recently purchased by the state from the defunct California National Bank is remodeled.

The spectacular display, emblematic of the Golden Empire and the colorful history of California, will be made up largely of gold specimens loaned by mining groups from all over the state.

Roy Clair, production manager of the Centennial, who completed arrangements for the exhibit, said the gold showing will be one of the largest ever attempted. He declared it would be one of the Centennial's finest attractions.

MERRIAM VOTE IN COUNTY FAR AHEAD OF OLSON

Latest analysis of the recent California election returns show the following interesting facts: Senator Culbert Olson fell 958 votes behind Republican governor Frank F. Merriam, despite the fact that the Democratic party has a registration that exceeds by 2,698 that of the Republican party. Governor Merriam polled 4452 votes against 3494 for Olson.

Of the 11,107 registered voters there were 8,105 who cast their ballots. This was slightly under 73 per cent. There were 180 who did not vote for either of the four gubernatornal candidates. Robert Noble, the Commonwealth candidate, did not receive a vote in Nevada County.

Congressman Harry L. Englebright of Nevada City received 6,779 votes, the highest number of votes given any candidate for an uncontested office.

GRATEFUL WOMAN GIVES TO RED CROSS

One of the women soliciting funds for the Red Cross knocked at the door of a little tumble down shack. Evidence of poverty was on every hand. The woman who came to the door when asked if she would like to become a member of the Red Cross, said: "I am sorry but I cannot take a membership, but I will contribute a little something to the Red Cross. My mother in the East was ill for months and they sent her a Red Cross nurse who stayed with her through that long sickness." She went back into the room and returning gave the Red Cross solicitor 25 cents.

MINE INSTALLS SHORT WAVE TRANSCEIVERS

According to Manager Elliott of the Rattlesnake mine, work of installing radio short wave transceivers at the mine and in Downieville will be completed this week.

The transceivers, which are the ultra modern type transmitters and receivers of the portable type utilized by the Forest Service and for communication between airplanes and ground stations, will make possible two-way communication between the crew at the Rattlesnake and the station to be established in Downieville, and are primarily for the purpose of summoning assistance in case of accident at the mine during the long period of winter isolation there.

It is understood that Miles Schofield will be in charge of the radio equipment at the mine and Wallace Tuttle will have the Downieville station under his supervision. The two young men recently went to San Francisco to qualify for licenses to operate the radio sets, in accordance with government regulations.

Installation of the transceivers at the Rattlesnake marks in all probability the first of its kind in Sierra county. The mine was recently equipped with an electric generating plant driven by a hydro turbine, and the tunnel and mine buildings are electrically lighted.—Downieville Messenger.

WORK NEARS COMPLETION

Heavy reconstruction work on Sutter's Fort, designed to place the historic structure in its original condition in preparation for the Sacramento Golden Empire Centennial, is almost completed, Curator Harry C. Peterson reported this week. More than 7,500 adobe blocks have been used in building foundations and the walls, he said. Peterson plans to start work on refinishing all of the rooms of the fort and outfitting them just as they were when Sutter lived there.

BROAD STREET BRIDGE WILL BE STRENGTHENED

The city council held a special meeting this morning to confer with W. G. Tinney of the State Highway engineering department, headquarters at Marysville, and with City Engineer Ed Uren. Plans were adopted for reinforcing and remodeling the Broad street bridge so that it will sustain any load. The cost will be $2521 of which the state will allot $500 from the city's share of license fees and gas taxes usually used for highway maintenance purposes. The bridge will have a cement floor, and will be so built as to sustain any weight that may be imposed.

GIVE THANKS
By JOHN P. CRONIN

Give thanks for health; what sweet joy it imparts!
The soul at peace, the body hale and sound
Are blest beyond the riches of this world,
No greater boon 'neath heaven may be found.

Give thanks for love; the warmth of affection
That mellows life with its pervading glow;
The joyous thrill of love's enchanted mood,
That only hearts enthralled with it may know.

Give thanks for peace: the gentle white dove flutters
Above this land where "brotherhood" prevails—
With amity and tolerance to guide us,
Our ship of peace may spread unblemished sails.

Give thanks for justice; let our paean soar
To Him Whose power is to curse or bless;
Who yet in mercy blesses our fair land
With freedom of religion, speech and press!

Tom Turkey has been officially designated program chairman of the day for all Nevada City Rotarians next Thursday. Only he will hold forth in the respective homes of the members rather than at the regular meeting place. Since the club's regular meeting falls on Thanksgiving Day, President Andy Holmes has cancelled the weekly luncheon for that date.

McGagin has the request under consideration. Nick Couri alias Moran was killed when with Weldon and another man they broke into the service station. Weldon was captured in Sacramento November 10. In confessing to the attempted robbery Weldon expressed regret that he was not killed also.

RED CROSS AID FOR VICTIMS OF ROAD ACCIDENTS

High speed automobiles, traffic congestion and other hazards make it imperative that attention be focused on curbing death and permanent injuries on the highways.

"Two decades ago highway accidents were mostly confined to runaway teams of horses, but during the past year 49,500 persons lost their lives in highway accidents, while 1,360,000 persons were injured in collisions, over turning and other unexpected happenings on national roads" the Red Cross stated.

In combating such deaths and injuries it is pointed out that the American Red Cross has made great strides in its nation wide campaign by establishing 2,500 Highway First Aid Stations and by designating 2,068 mobile First Aid units on highways throughout the country. Every man and woman can take an active part in this humanitarian work by joining the Red Cross, November 11-24.

The volunteer personnel manning he fixed highway stations and mobile units have all received thorough training in all phases of first aid practices.

Red Cross records show many cases where highway first aiders are definitely credited with the saving of lives of injured persons. They are daily binding wounds, stopping the bleeding and splinting broken bones as they give volunteeer service to aid humanity. The following outstanding cases are examples of the types of service given by first aid trainees.

Mrs. Roy L. Primeaux at Emigrant Springs Pass, Nevada, 36 miles from a doctor, applied digital pressure and compresses when jagged glass severed the artries of a woman autoists' neck, after her car had overturned down a sharp bank. The trainee's action made it possible to take the patient to a distant doctor, rather than to the coroner.

Four accidents in a month were cared for by Clyde Hilliard, at Aquila, Arizona. One person lost control of his auto when bothered by a bee; another went to sleep; the third was injured changing a tire, and the last was simply driving too fast.

C. W. Bell, of Granger, Washington, set a new record when he gave first aid treatment to nine persons in one auto accident.

KENNEBEC CONSOLIDATED PROPERTY

Henry and Herbert Paine of Lake City were Nevada City visitors today. Herbert Paine stated mining is continuing in the 300 foot tunnel on their property, the Kennebec Cons., and he was about ready to make another run of ore through a mill on the property. The vein is five feet wide where the ore is being mined.

SNIPERS PANNING BENEATH BRIDGE

"Gold is where you find it" seems to be the rule in Nevada City these days. Two snipers are panning gold under the Broad street-Plaza bridge where workmen are detouring the water of Deer Creek for a new cement reinforced pier. The men are finding flakes of gold as the water is being removed from the pit where the pier is to stand. Where Oregon Creek drain was repaired under the Montana Cafe and other buildings on Commercia street snipers also panned for gold while workmen prepared the ground for the cement trough. The snipers continue to work on the lot purchased by Eddie Leong and on which an old Chinese bank stood. Several local men remember working the streams as boys, among them being Frank Costa ,and selling the gold to the Chinese. The Oriental watched closely for a speck of black sand and turned the blowers over the nuggets and flecks often blowing away a good portion of the gold dust the boys had worked very hard for. This dust fell on the counter and floor and much of it must have been brushed up. As thousands of dollars in nuggets and gold dust were sold at the old Chinese bank.

CHILD MIGRANT IS P. T. A. TOPIC

A large number of the members of the Nevada City Elementary Parent Teacher Association attended the regular monthly meeting on Friday.

Mrs. Mitchell reported on the district meeting recently held at Lincoln. She gave an outline of the subjects that were discussed; one of the most interesting being the problem of the migratory child and how the Parent Teacher association is helping to solve the problem. The next district meeting will be given over to the local units to report on their local projects. Mrs. Mitchell was appointed chairman of the Health and Home Service program to be started in January. There will be a meeting of the Parent Education Study Group early in December.

At the conclusion of the business session the following program was presented:

A short skit, "The Talking Books" by pupils from Miss Tamblyn's fourth grade.

Three songs by the high school girls chorus, directed by Mrs. Libbey.

Mrs. DeWitt Nelson, the speaker for the afternoon, chose as her topic "Books for Children." Her remarks were instructive as well as entertaining. She stated that good books build character, stimulates creative instincts and bring about a kind of happiness that comes from no other activity. Mrs. Nelson read several pages from the new book "The Year is a Round Thing" by Mrs. H. P. Davis.

Ted Nelson read a verse from one of his favorite story books in contrast to a verse from very old story book, read by his mother.

Tea was served from tables decorated with Thanksgiving favors.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Devember 21.

SUSPEND U. S. 40 WORK

Work which has been under way on U. S. 40 at various places between Sacramento and Reno, is to be suspended during the winter months, reports the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. Work on the Colfax grade separation will be suspended December 15. Construction between Indian Springs and Rainbow Tavern will be suspended November 15. Following suspension of these projects, travel conditions will be made as normal as possible to provide safe driving until work is resumed in the spring.

REMOVE YUBA RIVER BRIDGE

Crews have been started on removal of the old bridge across the North Fork of the North Fork of the Yuba river, according to the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. During the time this work is underway, traffic will be detoured over existing streets in Downieville and a county bridge across the river upstream from the highway bridge. During the summer of 1939 a new bridge will be built at the site of the removed bridge, and until completion of the new bridge, traffic will continue to be routed over the established detour.

Winter Sports, Ahoy!

When old man Winter smites the Sierras, leaving the mountain sides covered with snow, California's great outdoors again comes into its own, calling to winter sports enthusiasts to come and revel in its beauty.

As children followed the Pied Piper of Hamlin, so do the snow sport devotees, armed with their skis, bobsleds and the poke poles, follow the siren call of snow-clad mountains.

From the towering crest of Mt. Shasta to majestic Mr. Whitney, ski trails will be blazed by winter sports celebrants. Lassen, Truckee and Norden; Soda Springs and Cisco; Calaveras, Pinecrest and Sequoia; the great glacial valley of Yosemite with its all year highway: the rival of the Switzerlands, Lake Tahoe; and scores of other famous snow fields, will be the destination of recreational seekers.

Most important, they will go, not to sit in a grandstand and watch others, but to participate themselves in a hearty, healthy recreation. Railroad excursions with special rates are being planned to acquaint more people with the pleasures of skiing, skating and bobsledding. Shining new winter sports equipment in the windows of city shops will add to the lure. And from almost any community in California, winter sports playgrounds will be within easy reach for week end excursions.

Already world-famous as a summer playground, California is now bidding for first honors on the far-flung snowfields of King Winter. And Californians—in increasing thousands—are blazing the trails.—Contributed.

Fruits Of Victory

Was it Napoleon who described victory as a "temporary realization of the achievement of one's destiny, fortifying the soul to withstand the pain of subsequent defeat?" The words are particularly fittting in the case of Herr Hitler's absorption of Sudetenland.

Sudetenland as a part of Czechoslovakia, enjoyed tariff priviliges that built up a great export business with the United States. Glassware, porcelain, toys, Christmas tree ornaments, leather and cloth gloves, liners and textiles, all found huge markets in this country—the low tariff, aided by a low-valued Czechoslovakian crown, spark-plugging exports to this country to a new high.

But as soon as the United States government classifies Sudetenland as a part of Germany, all such advantages will end. Sudeten goods will then come under the so-called "penalty tariffs" against Germany, with a higher valued German mark, and the boycott against German goods. Herr Hitler will then be faced with the problem of absorbing Sudeten products, finding new markets, or must stand by and see the rich Sudeten industries die off.

The Fuehrer achieved a triumph with aid of military force and the Four Power Munich Treaty, and his annexation of Sudetenland will go down in history as a brilliant coup.

But the story is not yet finished, for when the totals are checked up, it might be that a glorious military victory will have turned out to be an economic defeat.—Contributed.

Holiday Highways

A Hindu philosopher of old, who knew the ways of human thought, offered vast wealth to anyone who could perform a feat that seems the easiest imaginable. The test: To sit quietly for exactly five minutes without once thinking of a hippopotamus. No one ever won the prize.

By reversing the old Hindu's clever scheme, California organizations are attacking successfully the problem of highway accident tragedies at times when the threat of danger is at the peak. For the second successive year, 12,000 employes of the Standard Oil Company have motored to a holiday picnic without a single accident—because the company "challenged" them to establish a safety record by careful driving—with the "challenge" constantly repeated in the days preceding their trip.

Excellent results have been reported from the experiment of university authorities in issuing loudspeaker reminders to football crowds, immediately before they pour out of stadiums to their cars, that dispersal of a great throng increases traffic risks many fold.

We should all remind ourselves that the holiday season brings traffic hazards to an acute stage. Rain and early darkness make roads slippery and vision obscure. At the same time, Christmas shoppers and travelers to family reunions swell normal traffic—motor and pedestrian. Unfortunately, we find it all too easy to drive for many of the old Hindu's five-minute periods without once thinking of driving dangers. But we need to establish the habit of caution at all times. We need more reminders — more safety loudspeakers.—Contributed.

RIVER BOATS TO BRING THRONGS TO SACTO GAME

Two large Sacramento river steamboats, the Delta King and the Delta Queen, have been chartered by San Francisco Council, Young Men's Institute, for transportation to and from the Santa Clara Detroit football game, scheduled in the capital city stadium on Nevember 27.

San Francisco Council has already received reservations from over three hundred San Francisco football fans who regard the contest in Sacramento as a sports event they cannot afford to miss.

A report of advance ticket sales shows that grid fans from all parts of Northern California have made reservations to attend Sacramento's first major intersectional football game. In many instances special chartered trains and automobile coaches will bring out of town fans to the game.

The Detroit football team will fight hard during every minute of the game in hopes of gaining national recognition when the final scores are shown on the stadium board. On the other hand Buck Shaw's Broncos intend to wind up the season with another victory and will be constantly on their guard for surprise plays.

There are plenty of good seats available, but early reservations are advisable. Tickets may be obtained from Oscar Odegaard, of the Nevada County Lumber Company.

GOLDEN EMPIRE MUSICAL SESSION

Consolidation of Sacramento's major musical organizations "to present better music for residents of the Golden Empire" has been completed and announcement of the eleven concert programs has been made by Chairman Dair Davidson.

The program includes five concerts by the capital city's Symphony Orchestra, two by the popular male chorus, the McNeill Club, two by the 200 voice civic singers group, and the Gilbert and Sullivan light opera "Pinafore." All member groups will combine in a united concert during Music Week in May.

In announcing the program, Davidson said:

"We are striving to present the finest civic musical program at comparable prices of any city in the United States, and we are confident that it will be appreciated by the people of the community. At each of these concerts you will find real entertainment by outstanding artists. Come and enjoy them."

First concert of the season will be November 29, when the McNeill Club will present as its guest artist Vinko Karuza, Jugoslavian opera and concert star, who is regarded as one of the finest of modern European tenors.

Season tickets, costing $2.50 and covering all of the concerts, may be obtained from association headquarters, 408 Bryte Building, Sacramento, or from members of the musical organization.

THIS AND THAT

By ROY GRIFFITHS DEETER

WE HAVE BEEN sitting in the sun counting our blessings. They are so many that after awhile the figures ran too high for our mental arithmetic and the whole thing left us feeling rather awed. We just do not know what we have done in this life to deserve so much. Happiness seems to be our greatest gift, and upon further meditation we concluded that happiness is all encompassing. Long years ago we dreamed of life as we would like to live it, and now we seem to be living that dream. It makes one a little afraid, we get a too-good-to-be-truist feeling, but in the meantime our gratitude is deep, and we shall continue while there is breath left in our body to enjoy each second to the last drag. We wish our happiness were an ever lasting cake, that we could slice and share with others, so that they might keep it as long as they wished.

This all sounds perfectly assinine, it is amazing how hard it is to express an emotion that comes from deep within, while, on the other hand trivial things, like the man on the flying trapese, bubble forth with the greatest of ease.

COMING home from the show last night, we noticed on the opposite hillside great gobs of tremendous lights. We immediately concluded that the Narrow Gauge had been playing hop scotch with the rails again, or something tremendous had occurred that called for all the patrol cars, ambulances, and tow-cars in the county. The sluething instinct in us popped out, we leaped into our chariot and galloped over to see. Imagine our chagrin to find it was a home, decked with some very superior floodlights. It sort of annoyed us too—it made our own pride-and-joy floodlights look so VERY insignificant!

Going to the show in Nevada City is like going to a party, you meet all your friends and have a simply elegant time chatting between acts, and sometime during acts. We often wonder how it is we are not politely ushered out, but we try and remember the words of that great sage Char Lee (McCarthy) Confucius, "when you get into hot water, be nonchalant, take a bath."

AND so with this we say, happy, happy, Thanksgiving, and cheerio, everybody.

The final week of the U. S. forest service school being held at the experiment station at Quincy, Plumas county, started November 14 and will last until the 22nd. A course of fire prevention and replanting of forests is being offered to the enrollees. Rangers from the 18 national forests of California are attending the meeting. Those from the Tahoe National forest attending were Ranger Frank McCaslan, North Bloomfield, Ranger John R. Hodgson, Big Bend, Ranger F. A. Land, Sierraville and Ranger H. I. Snider, Truckee.

KING OF ALCATRAZ COMING TUESDAY NIGHT

The chances a desperate man, endowed with shrewdness, cunning and iron nerves could take to make good his escape from "break-proof" Alcatraz Island dreaded prison fortress is the graphic theme of Paramount's thrilling new action-romance, "King of Alcatraz", which opens tomorrow night at the Nevada Theatre.

Featuring a cast of film favorites headed by Gail Patrick, Lloyd Nolan and J. Carrol Naish, "King of Alcatraz" shows Naish, the king of mobsters seizing a whole ship at sea, forcing its loyal crew to change its course, and defying police to re-take him. The pirating of the ship by the gangster and his henchmen makes this story a new kind of sea tale.

The film feotures the screen's first picturization of a "radio operation", in which Gail Patrick, portraying a ship's nurse, is forced to operate on the severely wounded Lloyd Nolan, receiving her step by step instructions as how to proceed via radio from a doctor on another ship hundreds of miles away.

Don't miss this epic picture—and remember, Wednesday night is your last chance to win one of those fine big turkeys free!

Rail Heads Decide Against Pay Cut

More than 120 executives of class one American railroads, meeting in Chicago, wired President Roosevelt that they would not carry out their proposed 15 per cent pay cut, affecting more than 1,000,000 employees. Three of the railroad heads, composing the resolution to avoid pay cuts, left to right, are: Carl R. Gray, vice chairman of the Union Pacific; W. J. Jenks, president of the Norfolk & Southern; and J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads.

Horn Tooters Cheered—In Bronx Style

David Wilson, Santa Monica, Calif., true friend of the indignant motorist, recently patented a device which will express his contempt of the motorist who persists in blowing his horn at every available opportunity. Granted the enthusiastic approval of the United States patent office, the gadget is a combination of a light, a horn and a protruding tongue, to be attached to the rear of the automobile. The face resembles a clown mask and is operated from the front seat by means of a button on the dashboard.

EDWARD SOUTHERN BREAKS PAROLE

Edward Southern, of Grass Valley was sentenced last Friday to serve one year in the county jail for violation of the terms of his probation. He plead guilty to a burglary charge in the superior court last March, and was granted five years probation after serving 60 days in the county jail.

A. W. McGagin, probation officer filed an affidavit in the superior court charging that Southern violated his probation by failing to support his minor children and by being intoxicated and frequenting places where intoxicating liquor is served.

Southern had nothing to say in his defense and Judge Tuttle exercised leniency in imposing a county jail sentence instead of committing him to San Quentin for the term prescribed by law.

Southern entered a plea of guilty to charges of burglarizing the Golden Empire Grocery on Auburn street Grass Valley, and asked probation. Probation officer McGagin reported favorably on the application and Judge Tuttle accepted the recommendation.

Miss Mary Oliver to Wed Adrian Shannon

The engagement of Miss Mary Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Letts Oliver, to Adrian Foote Shannon of New York was made by the parents of the bride at a cocktail party in the Savoy Plaza Hotel in New York. The wedding will take place in the bay region some time in February.

NEWMONT TAKES TWO PROPERTIES IN NEVADA

The Newmont Mining corporation, interested in the Hecla and Polaris properties in the Coeur d'Alenes and holding many other ioterests in the northwest, will do some extensive mining in Nevada, where two mines have recently come under Newmont management.

Newmont is a holding and operating company, its shares being listed on the New York Curb and selling around $88 per share.

When the massive gold outcrop 25 miles west of Golconda in eastern Humboldt county, Nevada, was discovered by prospectors and later successfully tested by N. H. Getchell broad plans were made to mill this are body on a large scale.

The Newmont Mining corporation was approached in the matter and, after extensive tests, bought a 17 per cent interest in Getchell mines, inc. for $1,140,000. Now Getchell Mines, is a dividend payer and New mont Mining Company is getting some of its money back that it paid into the Getchell organization and which was used in mining development and the erection of the 700 ton daily capacity mill that is now proving a success. The Getchell, Inc., is capitalized for $8,000,000 par value $10. It has outstanding $5,316,460 and holds in its treasury $2,638,540 in treasury shares. Getchell, Inc. has just declared its second dividend of five cents per share and Newmont, on its 255,400 shares of Getchell stock gets its second dividend of $12,700.

The Newmont Mining corporation, through its subsidiary, Gray Rock Mining company, is doing extensive work at Jarbridge in northeastern Elko county, Nevada. The company has installed a second diesel unit and another large pump to free the shaft of water. The property was formerly owned by Elkoro Mines company. Decision to develop came as a result of diamond drill operations at around 90 feet depth. At this depth the drill cores revealed gold ore of paying grade, according to reports. The Jarmidge district has made a great record as a gold producer in past years.—The Goldfield News.

A MINER'S APPEAL

By ELLARD GATES

Sir, I don't like to complain,
I know this mine is no lark;
There are pools from dripping drains,
And with them the cold and the dark.

Sir, you'll never know what it is
Up in your well lighted sky,
Watching the cars that pass,
Warm with the sun—and dry!

There's the odor of powdered gas
That will get us all in time;
But somehow we go on with the task
Deep in the muck and grime.

Sir, when you are slightly old,
And your family is gathered round—
I'll be through with the digging of gold,
And calm in the burial ground.

Sir, if you had the moon
Stuck in your cap for a lamp—
You too would grow tired of it soon,
Deep in the dark and the damp.

Nothing but blackness above,
And nought moves here but the cars;
Sir, if you would have our love,
Fling us a handful of stars!

Mr. and Mrs. C. Muscardini, Elisha Curtis, Mrs. I. Henwood and children, Joyce and Clemente and Miss June Curtis enjoyed a trip to Forbestown Sunday. They visited the Henwood children's grandfather, Charles Henwood, and also saw his mine. On the trip the party saw deer and many quail and doves.
